BUFFINGTON, Ind., Aug. 29 (UP)— The world's largest cement plant an area six miles square around the plant as desolate as a desert, accord-

Her death was the result of a two months' illness of diabetes.

The deceased was widely known and respected in her community as she had lived near Manhattan for thirty-one years. She was very active in the Manhattan Christian Church, of which she was a member, and also took a leading part in the social activities in that neighborhood. Mrs.

loving mother, as well as a most friendly neighbor and she will be missed greatly not only by her fam-

York will open the play at the Great Northern theater in Chicago, at which place it will play all winter.

lady of talent and ability as a singer. She sang at the Christian church and many other local musical affairs.

A fugitive hearing in the case of the state versus Martin Stienk was heard Tuesday in the police court in Indianapolis, but as a result of 1-g-1 proceedings the case was continued until September 12, at which time a hearing will be held and finding made.

The local county officers, Sheriff Edward Eiteljorge and Prosecutor Clifford Dickerson went to Indianapolis on Tuesday and took with them Olin Dudley and Horace Robinson, both of whom were on the scene of the wreck in which Stienk's auto was demolished and both saw the driver of the booze car in which several gallons of liquor was found.

In the court room in Indianapolis before the trial these two men picked out the driver of the booze car before they knew that he was Stienk. Stienk's lawyers had the case continued as they said the defendants wife had been crippled recently and that they desired her presence at the trial.

Prosecutor Dickerson went to Indianapolis early on Tuesday morning to see if he could locate F. E. Goodwin the driver of the second car which figured in the wreck on the National Road, but could not locate him. Goodwin gave his address as Indianapolis when he was in Greencastle looking after his car.

Funeral services for Mrs. Eppie Sutherland who passed away on Monday afternoon was held Wednesday afternoon from the Deer Creek church. Interment was in the Deer Creek Cemetery.

FARMER HAS EXPERIENCE WITH CROOK

LEONARD NEWMAN ROBBED AND TIED BY STRANGER ON TUESDAY.

HAD GIVEN MAN A "LIFT"

Forced To Drive Bandit To Terre Haute. Searching Party Scours Home Neighborhood.

Leonard Newman, a well known farmer residing near Mt. Meridian, was the victim of a holdup man on Tuesday evening. He was robbed of his money, forced to drive the bandit nearly to Terre Haute, and left tied beside his machine until released by a passing motorist.

Newman was gone from his home until 11 p. m. and his absence so alarmed his wife that neighbors conducted a search of the streams in the vicinity of the Newman home, believing that he had met an untimely end.

According to Elbert Tinscher, Newman stated Tuesday that he was not feeling well and had decided to drive around and possibly go swimming.
On State Road 43, south of the city, he picked up a stranger intending to give him a "lift." The stranger, however, poked a gun in Newman's side and made him turn off Road 43 onto the National Highway and take him nearly to Terre Haute. The bandit then took Newman's money and tied him up beside the machine and went on toward Terre Haute.

A passing motorist freed Newman, who returned home about 11 p. m. He was wet and muddy but was thankful to escape with his life, as the bandit was one of the "hard boiled" type.

In the meanwhile, Mrs. Newman had instigated a search, fearing that if her husband had gone swimming as he had planned, he might have met with a serious or possible fatal accident. The severe rain and electrical storm Tuesday night handicapped the searching parties, but they were determined to look for him throughout the night and longer if necessary.

SEIZE WHISKEY CARGO

ANGOLA, Ind., Aug. 29. (UP)— key valued at $36,000 were seized on a road near here by Sheriff Charles

The whiskey was being hauled on a six-wheel truck which the driver at first told police was loaded with gendue to engine trouble when first noticed by the officer, and Hiller was

ACTUAL COST OF WATER CO. ABOUT $274,932

RATE INCREASE HEARING IS IN PROGRESS BEFORE PUB-LIC SERVICE COMMISSION.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 29. (UP)— Statistics disclosing the original cost of the Greencastle Waterworks Company whose owners are asking for a revaluation of the company and rates based on the higher figures, were introduced at the hearing today before Public Service Commissioner Frank T. Singleton.

Benjamin Perk, secretary of the water company declared that both the Greencastle Waterworks Company, and the Vincennes Water company had been purchased on one bid. Income tax valuation and division placed the actual cost of the company at $274,932; but that considering intangibles, going value and improvements the company today should be valued at $600,000.

The commission engineers in 1927 appraised the property at $400.00 as now and $331,000 as depreciated.

George H. Alexander, vice president and general manager of both companies was unable to give the actual cost at a previous hearing. The commission ruled that he must answer and today's hearing was based on his answer.

Faith In Peace Fact Expresser

PARIS, Aug. 29 (UP)—Reaffirmations of faith in the Kellogg anti-war pact continued arriving in Paris today from all parts of the world as the last of the visiting diplomats, who signed the treaty Monday, prepared to leave for their homes.

The move to halt aggressive warfare already has gained momentum. forty nine nations, besides the original signatories, have been invited to help bring about universal peace.
Many nations already have indicated their desire to line up with the Great Powers.

It was reported one nation had urged her Ambassador here to sign the pact immediately. Two South American countries and Mexico are reported to have been waiting eagerly for the invitation to adhere to International peace.

Premier Poincare intends to ask parliament to ratify the anti-war treaty immediately after it convenes in October, and before it begins the long debate on the budget. The foreign office was advised unofficially today that Greece, Peru, Jugo-Slavia, Roumania and Denmark intend to adhere to the treaty.

George Lance, defending champion of Terre Haute.

Other local men to make the grade in tournaments outside of the state meet were: S. C. Sayers who with a total score of 176, qualified for the Good Fellowship Flight, and H.
V. Talbot who qualified for the Special Flight, with a total score of 180.

OLD POTTERY PLANTS WERE IN PUTNAM CO.

PUTNAMVILLE HAD TWO THAT SOLD PRODUCTS OVER HALF
THE STATE.

DUPLICATE JEWISH PROCESS

Jeremiah's Description of It Fits Putnam County's Procedure in Making Crockery Articles.

"Then I went down to the potter's house and, behold, he wrought a work upon the wheels."

Jeremiah could have been making a tour of the Putnamville region in 1850 instead of some Israelitish center of industry, several thousands of years ago. In the pottery of Amos Welkers two miles south of Putnamville and of Ike and Hez Perry, two miles southwest of that town, the operators wrought their work upon wheels that were about identical with those used by the old-time artisans.
The process was nearly the same all the way through.

The Israelites probably used manpower to drag the big mixing wheels around, and Putnam county's manufacturers employed horses. Sometimes the Israelites got into the mixing vats with their bare feet and ramped around, breaking up the clods in the clay and merging the water with the other material, to produce he proper consistency. When it began to squish up well between their oes it was ripe for the wheels.

The shale, in the Putnam county factories, was hauled in by wagon from the vicinity of Brazil, for the inner products. It burned a light musto color that was much admired by the pioneer housekeepers for table rockery. Local shale was used, also, but it was not of so fine texture, from it was made heavy crockery.

The dry shale was placed in a circular vat, low-walled, on the ground vel. From a post set in the center extended a beam on which was a cotton wheel, four or five feet high and a foot thick. At the outer end of the beam, outside the vat, was unharnessed a horse whose sole vocation in life was to travel in a circle, lowly. It was a job much sought after in the equine world.

The wheel thoroughly blended the material in the vat. The mud was arried to the turning tables where really marvelous work was performed upon it. These tables, or "heels," had a vertical shaft with a horizontal disc affixed to its upper end, waist-high, and another disc on its lower end. The operator sat upon a saddle sort of seat, and kicked he lower disc, producing great speed in the rotating of the upper table. It was a great job for kickers.

In the center of the upper disc the artisan placed a chunk of the prepared mud, and started the wheel's rotation. With no tools but his hands, he began to shape the mass of material as it whirled, building up the lines of a crock or a jug or a specimen of a good many other classes of tensils, producing symmetrical shapes and smooth surfaces. If the article was to be glazed, he rubbed into the surface a saline preparation.

The articles thus moulded were placed in burning kilns and carried through various degrees of heat, through an extended period. The product was good in quality and in great demand. George Perry would load a wagon with the finished articles and travel over the southern half of Indiana, even reaching Madison and New Albany, disposing of his wares.

One of the products of these potteries of Putnam county was farm train tile. In the photogravure section of the Sunday edition of the Indianapolis Star a month or more ago was pictured several of the tile of this character which were made in an old-time Putnamville pottery. Those particular tile are now at the home of "Jack" Cooper at the intersection of the National road and the Greencastle road, in Putnamville, but there are other specimens of the product.
Some of it was dug up in the yard of Mrs. Carrie Hays' home on west Poplar street, Greencastle, which were yet sound and functioning. They show the finger marks left in shaping the cylindrical discs. They are probably not less than half a century old.

The sheep market was steady.

THIRD DAY OF INSTITUTE AT HIGH SCHOOL

PROF. THOMPSON DELIVERS SPLENDID ADDRESS ON APPRECIATION.

Teachers attending the Putnam county institute on Wednesday in the auditorium of the local high school, heard a splendid address by Prof. Clem O. Thompson called "The Appreciation Lesson."

The comment is often made that our pupils on leaving school, do not read the best literature nor care for the best music. Yet, the one objective given most often by English teachers and music teachers for the presence of the subject in the schools is to help pupils to enjoy good literature and good music.

Appreciation is an emotional process, not a knowledge proven and as such requires a special, particular method.

If fewer attempts were made to teach children how to appreciate, but more carefully made plans were developed for the fewer lessons, more appreciation would result.

One real genuine appreciation lesson each three or four weeks would reap great rewards.

Before any teacher can teach an appreciation lesson, she must be genuinely appreciative of the selection in literature, music, art, etc.

Significance of School Marks Every one in adult life is called upon to render two types of service; namely, first, that type of service for which one receives pay; second, a type of service for which one receives no financial reward—the type of service which makes one a good neighbor.

In preparing children for adult life, the school attempts to set up apportionments to enable children to prepare for their adult services. We have our regular class-room work for which grades are given. These grades constitute the child's pay. Then we have the extra-curricular activities which enable the pupils to give a type of service to their fellows.

In giving grades, care must be taken that the child is not over-paid or under-paid. He must learn to give value received, so that when he gets out into life, he will not have the habit of "just getting by."

School marks or grades as they are too often given are no measure of the child's ability or performance. Many children receive high grades in the local school system, but when they go to college where the personal element is farther removed, they make lower grades or fail. This is not because they do poorer work at college. They were given too high grades.

Tuberculosis Clinic Is Held

DR. STYGALL OF INDIANAPOLIS
IN CHARGE. SEVERAL PEOP-LE EXAMINED.

Dr. John Stygall of Indianapolis, was in the city during the day conducting the tuberculosis clinic which was held at the County Hospital from 10:00 o'clock and throughout the rest of the day.

Every few months these clinics are held at the hospital giving the people an opportunity to have a free examination. Each time a clinic is held more people respond. Eighteen or twenty persons are examined during the day and oftentimes it is necessary to turn a few people away until the next clinic.

RAIN DELAYS CITY COUNCIL TUESDAY EVE.

BUSINESS SESSION GETS UN-DERWAY ABOUT 9 P. M. DUE TO STORM.

NEW ORDINANCE PASSED

Paving Work Estimates Allowed.
Resolution Passed and Building Permit Granted.

The severe rain and electrical storm nearly caused postponement of the city council meeting Tuesday evening but about 9 p. m. a quorum was obtained and business transacted.

W. E. Picken was allowed a first estimate of $15,912 for paving work on south College avenue. A partial estimate of $6,616.70 was allowed A.
E. Dorsey for work on Indiana street, after $2500 had been deducted to pay claims against him. The total estimate was $9,116.70.

Earl Arnold was given permission to erect a garage at the rear of the monument works building on east Franklin street.

An ordinance was passed which makes it possible to use the excess fund in the fire truck bond issue to retire bonds at interest as they become due as no levy has been made this year to pay any bonded indebtedness, thus relieving the taxpayers.
Bonds for the new fire truck recently purchased by the council, aggregated a sum of $10,599. The truck was bought for $7,685, leaving an excess of $2,914.

A resolution was passed approving the signatures of Mayor McGaughey and city clerk Ensign to a contract with the Big Four railroad authorizing a sewer drain under the tracks on the plot of ground bought by the council a few months ago which lies just north of the city limits.

OF VETERANS.

The tenth annual bean dinner for Only eight or ten of the old soldiers were able to be present for Wednesday's gathering, headed by Col. Henry Dorsett, of Jefferson township, commander of the local G. A. R. post.

Jacob Keifer was in charge of the "eats." He supervised the cooking of a wash tub filled with 25 pounds of beans and 15 pounds of bacon.

The crowd was estimated around seventy-five or eighty and all present had a most enjoyable time. Col.
Dorsett spoke on behalf of the old soldiers, welcoming the visitors and expressing appreciation to the patriotic organizations responsible for the bean dinner.

The principal address of the day was delivered by Matt J. Murphy who took for his subject "The Old Soldier."

Fashion Demands New Non-Oily Creme Rouge

It is neither fashionable nor artistic to use a rouge that doesn't look natural. Smart French women demand a non-oily Creme Rouge, like Car-nee, that can't be detected. Car-nee changes color when applied to blend with your natural flesh tints.
Leaves no trace of oil or pigment on the skin. Waterproof, lasts all day.

TELL OF HEROISM

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 29. (UP)— The three survivors of a little party which went out for a forbidden boat ride on Lake Michigan told today of the heroism of their companion, Fred Rummel, whose courageous attitude as the four clung to an upturned boat kept the spirits of the party up.

Rummel spent his strength encouraging his companions, Harold Tarrant, 20, Marjory Oleson, daughter of a Chicago Banker, and Shirley Conlee, daughter of a bond broker, telling them that soon a boat would come and pick them up.

Then after fifteen hours clinging to the bottom of the slippery boat—and just as rescue was nearing—the youth's strength gave way and started slipping from the boat. Tarrant dove after him three times, but his efforts were unavailable and Rummel drowned shortly before a coast guard crew arrived.

The three who were saved told today of how a puff of wind caught their boat and threw the occupants into the cold waters of Lake Michigan, how they treated it as a joke at first, certain that rescue was near, but how finally they began to fear they never would be saved.

es in the lower school.
We owe children a square deal, neither too high nor too low grades.
Two interesting subjects discussed by Prof. J. B. Thomas, on Wednesday were:—

The Body's Pumping Plant There has been much veneration for the heart as is shown by the fact that the word occurs 114 times in the Bible and the word "courage" comes from the word for heart. People used to think the heart was the seat of emotions. Some psychologists today think the elementary canal is the source of feelings.

Harvey demonstrated the circulation of the blood and then had to contend with prejudice and ignorance of his contemporaries. His discovery of circulation ranks in importance with Newton's discovery of laws of gravitation. The heart pumps 150 barrels of blood in 24 hours, its work is equivalent to raising, 10,000 pounds, 1 foot in 1 hour.

The brain, the lungs, and the heart form the tripod of life. The array of facts is given for the purpose of creating more reverence and respect for the heart.

Geography and History of Erie Canal The lecture is a model lesson illustrating the principle of correlation in school subjects. One problem of the curriculum maker is to secure emphasis in relation of the different school subject. The glacial epoch carved out a pathway through the mountain system of the eastern part of the United States from Lake Erie by way of the Mohawk River and the Hudson river. Man took advantage of the phenomenon and built the Erie Canal. The following fact illustrates its economic importance, the price of carrying a ton of flour from the west to New York City was reduced from $100 to $10. It is possible for a teacher to weave geography, history and literature into his teaching of this topic.
